Robinson's Ramblings'

This issue covers another "Old Car venue" that is kind of special to me. We not only were able to visit the Auburn-Cord Duesenberg Museum but the Early Ford V8 Museum as well. I have always had a special place in my heart for old Fords since I had several during my high school years and still have the "40" Ford Convertible I actually drove in high school. The Early Ford V8 museum, while not as elaborate as the ACD Museum still had a lot of "stuff" I am very familiar with and have had my hands on and in for most of my life. I could barely afford an old Ford as a kid in the 1950's; a Duesenberg was truly a dream, only!!!

We got to talk to some great people at the V8 museum and I have offered some vintage Ford parts to them that came out of some of the old Ford dealers I bought out years ago. I still have some stuff left over from my Swap Meet business that they may be able to use. They are trying to train some young guys in rebuilding Ford flatheads and I would really like to donate some of the parts I have to a good cause like this.

The Editors Turn

This Special Edition of the Swamp Fox Old Car Club Newsletter is created to feature our tour of the Early Ford V-8 Foundation Museum which we visited while at the 2019 AACA Annual Grand National Meet in Auburn, IN.

The Early Ford V-8 Foundation Museum features Ford Flathead V-8 vehicles, components and products offered from 1932 thru 1953. The museum is operated by Ford enthusiasts that want to tell the history of the Ford Motor Company for others to enjoy. It is not affiliated with the Ford Foundation, Ford Motor Company, or the Henry Ford Museum.

Check out the museum at their web site, <http://www.fordv8foundation.org/>.

I encourage you to see it in person if you are ever in the northern Indiana area. Until then, I hope that you enjoy the picture tour of the National Auto and Truck Museum.
